About the Competition:

1st ADR Research paper writing Competition on “Contemporary Challenges in International Commercial Arbitration in India” attempts to provide a platform to the law students for expressing their views on various aspects of International Commercial Arbitration and recent developments taking place across the globe and in India which effects the Indian position. The sub-themes/topics of the competition ensure to provide global relevance and encourage the participants to analyze and convey their thoughts and probable solutions on these areas.

About University of Delhi:

Established in 1922, the University of Delhi stands as one of India's most prestigious central universities in India. Situated in the heart of the national capital, it has served as the intellectual crucible for generations of leaders who have shaped India's legal landscape, governance structures, public policy frameworks, and civil society institutions. The University has consistently maintained its position at the forefront of higher education in India, fostering critical thinking, academic rigour, and social responsibility. Its contribution to nation-building through quality education remains unparalleled across diverse disciplines.

About Campus Law Centre:

Established in 1924, the Campus Law Centre (CLC) is the founding institution of the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi, and stands as one of India's most prestigious centres for legal education. With a legacy spanning over a century, CLC has consistently shaped the intellectual, professional, and ethical foundations of the Indian legal system. The Campus Law Centre fosters an atmosphere of intellectual inquiry, professional discipline, and public service, encouraging students to contribute meaningfully to the rule of law and constitutional governance. As a cornerstone of the Faculty of Law, University of Delhi, Campus Law Centre continues to uphold its commitment to excellence, access, and social responsibility, remaining a beacon of legal scholarship and leadership in India's evolving legal landscape.

About ADR Society:

The Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Society at Campus Law Centre, University of Delhi is a student-led body under the guidance of the Faculty Convenor dedicated to promoting ADR as effective substitutes for litigation. The Society seeks to promote and widen the understanding of arbitration, mediation, and other ADR mechanisms among law students while emphasizing their role in ensuring speedy, cost-effective and amicable resolution of disputes. Through workshops, simulation exercises, training programmes, students are exposed to hands-on techniques essential for ADR practice. In addition, the Society facilitates academic engagement by organizing seminars, panel discussions and guest lectures featuring judges, senior advocates, academicians, and industry experts offering valuable insights into contemporary developments in ADR.
