

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION SOCIETY
CAMPUS LAW CENTRE
UNIVERSITY OF DELHI

Dear Student,
Greetings of the day!

We are pleased to inform you that the ADR Society of Campus Law Centre is inviting submissions for its official Blog Page.

About the Blog:

It is the endeavour of the ADR Society, Campus Law Centre to provide a dynamic platform to various stakeholders including practitioners, arbitrators, mediators, academicians, and students to engage and expand the scope of discussion on different facets of ADR through this blog. This blog aspires to create a repository of the latest and contemporary topics related to all the branches of ADR.

Eligibility:

-Any LL.B/LL.M student studying in a recognized law university/college in India

Details:

Topic: Any contemporary topic or analysis of any latest case in the field of ADR

Word limit: 500-700 words

Structuring details: Times New Roman, 12; Alignment: Justified; Line Spacing: 1.5.

Deadline: 7th April, 2024

Other necessary details:

- The blog entry must be sent in an MS Word document (.doc or .docx). PDF/other formats/hard copy submissions will not be accepted.
- Footnotes must be used to cite relevant legal sources and references to be made in compliance with the ILI Format (ILI Citation Rules available at <http://www.ili.ac.in/cstyle.pdf>). Footnotes should be in Times New Roman, size 10, with 1.0-line spacing.

- Co-authorship up to 2 authors is allowed.
- The author must mention their name, email address, year, and name of the university/college in the submission mail and must not mention it in the document submitted.
- Submissions should be the original work of the author(s) and the submission mail shall contain a declaration that the piece submitted is original & not plagiarized from any other sources and all the references made therein are according to the relevant guidelines. Similarity beyond 10% will lead to automatic rejection.
- All submissions will undergo plagiarism and similarity checks. Based on the lucidity, relevance and contemporary nature of the writing, the first round of shortlisting will be done by student editors followed by final review by faculty editors.

Note: In case of any discrepancy, the discretion of the faculty convener would be considered.

Submissions must be sent to adrblogclc@gmail.com (submission through any other mode would not be accepted)

In case of any assistance or clarification, please feel free to reach out to us at adrsocietyclc@gmail.com.

Regards,
ADR Society, CLC